CURRENT EVENTS 1977-78

EVANSVILLE BASKETBALL TEAM

On December 13, 1977, a DC-3, Flight 216, crashed en route to Tennessee, killing 29 people. Fourteen members of the Evansville Purple Aces basketball team, Coach Bobby Watson, the assistant athletic director and two student managers. The team was traveling to play a varsity game against Middle Tennessee. It was one of the most tragic accidents of the year. Airline officials thought either engine failure or improperly stored baggage was the cause of the crash.

SNOW

The winter of 1977-78 was certainly one of the worst winters Clinton Central has ever seen. You could say Clinton Central was No. 1 concerning snow days and closed school. At first, being out of school was pretty nice, but after awhile students began to fear a continuation of school. Teachers discussed the matter, and Mini Courses were canceled. This brought many long faces from the students, but anything was better than a continued school year.
All together twenty-four days were missed and too much snow fell.

THE KING OF "ROCK N' ROLL" IS GONE

Elvis Presley died on August 15, 1977 of a heart-attack, at the age of 42. Elvis, known as "Elvis the Pelvis", was loved by all. While the boys were trying to imitate him, the girls longed for his sleepy, sensual eyes. He was born dirt poor in rural Mississippi. When he became 18, his family moved to Memphis, Tennessee. There he began work as a truck driver for $41.00 a week. Elvis sold over 500 million records, more than any other pop star. In the Mid-50s, he had a long parade of hits, which included, "Heartbreak Hotel", "Hound Dog", "All Shook Up", and "Jailhouse Rock". His first appearance was on the Ed Sullivan Show. His first movie was "Love Me Tender", which proved to be a big hit and was soon followed by many more. Elvis was a great person and performer. He'll always be remembered because he opened the door for Rock n' Roll, which lives on today.

MID-EAST PEACE TALKS

In the Fall of 1977, one of the main topics on the news was the Mid-East Peace talks. Remember? It seems like all we heard was . . . "Begin did this" or "Sadat did that". These negotiations between Egypt and Israel got quite a bit of coverage in the United States . . . President Carter even went to the Eastern Hemisphere to see what he could do to help the countries make agreements. The outcome . . . everyone went home—no lasting decisions were made.

THE COAL SHORTAGE

On December 6, 1977, after an argument with the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, the United Mine Workers went out on strike. Three months into the strike, people everywhere were starting to feel the pinch. Electric power plants asked the public to make cut-backs at home. Cut-backs to conserve coal were also made in professional sports events, retail business schedules and in schools. UMW members suffered losses as well. Members lost medical insurance coverage. Those retired on the 1950 pension lost monthly pension checks. Non-union mines tried to transport some coal but they were encouraged by unions not to do so. Some of those who did ship coal were forced by union members to dump the coal along the roadside. Miners turned down the first proposal offered them. Finally after a 109-day coal strike, the UMW and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association reached an agreement. The strike was over.

BING CROSBY

Bing Crosby was one of the most popular singers and motion picture stars in the United States. During the 1930's, he made the "crooning" style of singing famous throughout the world. He won an Academy Award in 1944 in the film "Going My Way." He was born Harry Lillis Crosby in Tacoma, Washington. His career started in 1924 with a Los Angeles dance band. Radio performances and records increased Crosby's fame. His biggest selling record was "White Christmas". In recent years, Crosby was associated with charity affairs, road movies with Bop Hope, endorsements for Minutemaid orange juice, and playing golf. On October 17, 1977, during a game of golf, in Spain, Bing Crosby died of a heart attack. A valuable performer was lost.

THE HOLLANDSBERG MASS MURDERS

The Hollandsberg mass murders took place on Valentine's Day. On the night of February 13, 1977, Roger Drollinger, Daniel Stonebraker, Michael Wright and David Smith were looking for someone to kill. They drove for several hours and came upon a trailer with several nice cars outside. Inside the trailer, they found Betty Spencer, her son Gregory Brooks, 23, and two of her stepsons, Ralph, 14, and Reeve, 15. A few minutes after Drollinger had arrived, Raymond Spencer, 17, returned home from work. The family was forced to lie face down on the floor, while the gang shot them. Mrs. Spencer's wig was knocked loose from her head and the men didn't realize that she was still alive. Mrs. Spencer lived to identify the murderers and testify against them. The gang was caught and convicted of murder.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN

Charles Spencer Chaplin was born in the slums of London to an alcoholic father and a mother who sewed blouses for 1½ pence each. Chaplin got his start in Vaudeville as a clown in "The Tramp" in 1910. Some of his other movies were "Modern Times", "The Gold Rush", and "The Great Dictator". Even though Chaplin was a great actor, he led a rough life. His marriages and divorces to two teenagers ruined his career. In 1940, Chaplin was attacked for his satire of Adolph Hitler and Benito Mussolini. Chaplin and his fourth wife, Oona, whom he married when he was 54 and she was 18, learned that he would be detained if they re-entered the United States. Chaplin retired to Switzerland with his wife and eight children. He received an Academy Award in 1972 and was bestowed knighthood by Queen Elizabeth II in 1975. Chaplin died in his sleep on Christmas Day at his home in Vevay, Switzerland. He was 88. Chaplin will always be remembered for his shuffling step, choppy moustache, and his cane.

HUBERT HORATIO HUMPHREY

Hubert Humphrey was born in Wallace S.D. on May 27, 1911, the son of a small town druggist. In 1945, at age 34, he was elected Mayor of Minneapolis. Hubert was then popularly elected to the U.S. Senate in 1948, and re-elected in 1954 and 1960. While in the Senate, he acquired the respect and affection of his colleagues. In 1960, he ran for the Presidency, but lost the nomination to John F. Kennedy. He was chosen as Democratic majority whip in 1961. Humphrey was always considered a liberal and a strong civil rights defender. He also was instrumental in the passage of the Peace Corps Bill, Urban renewal, Federal aid to education, and the nuclear test ban treaty. He was elected Vice President on the Democratic ticket in 1964, as the running mate of President Lyndon B. Johnson. When HHH passed away this year on January 13, another page was closed in the book of U.S. Government and the American people lost a friend.

Students Enjoy Sunfilled Trip to Mexico

On March 16, 1978, twenty-five students, along with Mr. and Mrs. James Siegfried, left Indianapolis International Airport. After a short layover in Dallas, the class landed in Mexico City with much excitement. The first evening was spent getting instructions, meeting their guides for the week, and trying to get some sleep. They also learned that traffic in Mexico City was worse than facing traffic during the rush hour.

The next day was spent seeing some of the sights of Mexico City by bus. This included going to the Anthropology Museum, climbing the pyramids, and going to the bullring. Here many Central students became successful matadors against two frisky calves. After arriving back at the Fiesta Hotel, everyone who was with Hemispheric Travel met for dinner and a disco.

The second day was a walking tour of the city in the rain. They visited the National Palace and the National Cathedral. In the afternoon, shoppers bargained with shop owners in the marketplace. During dinner, the group was surprised by an earthquake. Later, several travelers attended the Jai-Lai games.

Sunday morning all dressed in their best to go to the Ballet Folklorico, the national dance troupe. The remainder of the day was spent on the bus ride from Mexico City to Acapulco. They arrived to 80-90^0 weather and a blackout.

Monday was really a sun day. The morning was spent watching the famous cliff dives and taking a three hour cruise on the bay of Acapulco. The afternoon was free for other sun activities and the evening was spent at Dali Disco dancing. Many topped off the evening with a moonlight swim or walk along the beach.

Tuesday, everyone was ready for the bus trip from Acapulco to Taxco to Cocoyoc, but the bus broke down. After finally arriving in Taxco, they went silver shopping, then continued the ride to Cocoyoc.

The hotel in Cocoyoc had been a 16th century sugar mill. There were gardens and flowers everywhere, and an entire day to enjoy golf, tennis and swimming. At night there was another disco and an extended curfew.

The next day was "the pits"—time to leave. After a delay, everyone boarded the plane for the San Antonio airport, where they went through customs. Next was Dallas, just in time to change planes for Indy. Upon arrival at Indianapolis International Airport, the travelers were greeted by friends and relatives.

All of those who took the trip will never forget it. It was the highlight of the year, and made up for all the dismal snow days. Many new friendships were made and old ones were made stronger. Mexico was really something to remember.

KEVIN JAY

It's nearing graduation day,
The time has come at last,
To gather up my memories,
Of pleasures in the past.

It seems that only yesterday
I heard my father say,
In five more years, you'll
be a man,
That's graduation day.

The time has come and gone
so fast,
There's things I haven't done,
It seems I never have the
time,
I'm always on the run.

I guess you never understand,
just how short life can be.
I'd like to tell you all goodbye
Life just ran out on me.

Sue Parker

By his friends, Kevin will always be remembered with a grin on his face and a joke in his voice. Kevin could make everyone laugh and usually did. He was willing to help a friend anyway possible and you knew Kevin was always around if you needed him. Kevin's presence will be sorely missed, but the memories we hold will be pleasant.
